

August 9, 2007

To Whom It May Concern:

For the last 12 years, the troubles we have been encountering with our debt to the IRS, as you can imagine, have caused distress, exhaustion, and heartache. We were in serious trouble and the spiraling effect of falling deeper and deeper into it was beyond overwhelming. There seemed to be no way out, and we lost hope years ago.

Of course we sought help as it was a situation we could not handle on our own. Company after company promised to help, but only served by putting us deeper in debt. They were not interested in helping to relieve our problems, but only in making money off our terrible situation. After $15,000 and more distress, we were only deeper in debt and left dumbfounded.

A thoughtful friend referred Mr. Culp and his services, but because of previous experiences striking out with three different companies, we were quite skeptical and had our guard up. However, he was our last resort and in desperation we scrounged up the last bit of trust we harbored.

When we came to him we thought the amount we owed was literally impossible to overcome. Mr. Culp worked diligently as a liaison to the IRS on our extremely complicated and intricate case. He formulated a workable plan and assisted us in executing it while using superhuman compassion, patience, and understanding. There were a multitude of snags along the way, but he still persevered. In less than a year, he put us on the right track and completely turned things around. When we finished working with him, he had reduced our debt to one fifth the original amount!

We want to thank him for giving our lives back. We would gladly refer him to a friend if, God forbid, one ever found such trouble. Never have the words "thank you" ever carried so much weight or meaning. Now instead of being in debt with the IRS, we are deeply indebted with gratitude to Mr. Culp.

From the bottom of our hearts, we thank him.

Sincerely,

Bruce & Cheryl _____